Irish Usher in Gerry Faust Era

Thanks to the presence of new coach Gerry Faust—from his revamped offense and defense to the royal blue jerseys in which his Irish will be outfitted—football will have a whole new look at Notre Dame in 1981.

The enthusiastic and ever-smiling Faust wasted little time in installing a new multi-dimensional offensive attack, tinkering a bit with the Irish defense—and making his share of position changes. It's all part of his promise to run a pressuring, wide-open offense and an aggressive, pursuing defense.

Yet Faust is the first to acknowledge the obstacles. Despite his glittering 174-17-2 record in 18 seasons at Moeller High School in Cincinnati, Ohio, he'll be making his first stab this fall at coaching at the intercollegiate level. The '81 Notre Dame schedule—which includes '80 bowl teams Michigan, Purdue, Florida State, Navy, Penn State and Miami, plus always-tough Southern California and opening foe Louisiana State—won't break him in easily.

"Judging by what I saw in spring practice I think we have some talent," says Faust. "But it's difficult for me to analyze how good our athletes are compared to other colleges. After I've been through a full season at this level, and seen how our people stack up on the field against a Michigan or a Penn State or a Southern Cal, I'll have a better idea where we stand."

Faust will be missing a solid aggregation of graduates from the 1980 Irish team that finished 9-2-1 and earned a Sugar Bowl berth. Gone are a pair of first-team All-Americans, center John Scully and defensive end Scott Zettek. Replacing veteran guards Tim Huffman and Bob Burger, flanker Pete Holohan, halfback Jim Stone, defensive end John Hankerd and free safety Tom Gibbons won't be simple, either. Nine other monogram-winners are missing from the '80 team that defeated five bowl-bound opponents and found itself ranked number-one in the nation after opening the season with seven straight victories.

Part of the reason for Faust's infectious grin is that Notre Dame's new football coach now has the job he has dreamed about for years. But his optimism also stems from the 16 returning starters—eight each on offense and defense—he has inherited among 38 letter-winners back overall.

Thanks to the youthful image that characterized last year's Irish edition, Faust this fall will be able to call on at least one returning letterman at every position. That should make it easier to provide an encore for Notre Dame's number-nine ranking in the final '80 Associated Press poll (10th in the last United Press International listing).

Skill position returnees such as junior tailback Phil Carter—Notre Dame's offensive captain for '81—sophomore quarterback Blair Kiel, senior tight end Dean Masztak and junior wingback Tony Hunter give Faust the experience he seeks to orchestrate the multi-faceted Irish attack. They'll be aided by junior fullbacks Larry Moriarty and John Sweeney, plus senior split end Mike Boushka.

The Notre Dame rushing attack, which ranked 15th in the nation last year, will have the benefit of a gargantuan pairing on the right side of the offensive line. Senior Phil Pozderac, the 6-9, 270-pound right tackle, and junior Mike Shiner, the 6-8, 270-pound right guard, will be aided by a half-dozen other lettermen up front.

"Our offense is designed to enable us to throw a wide variety of different formations at an opponent's defense," says Faust. "We know, for example, that Phil Carter is a great football player. But, to make him most effective, we need to make good use of the people we have at wingback and fullback and the receiving spots, too. We want to make it as difficult as possible for a defense to stop all the things we're capable of doing."

A 23-quarter streak without allowing a touchdown highlighted Notre Dame's 1980 defensive improvement, and that facet of the Irish game again should be solid. All-America linebacker Bob Crable headlines the returning regulars from a unit that ranked among the nation's leaders in total defense (fourth at 213.2 yards per game), rushing defense (eighth at 109.8), passing defense (sixth at 103.4) and scoring defense (fifth at 10.1). Over the last seven regular-season games, the Irish allowed an average of only 5.6 points, 166.5 total yards and 59.6 passing yards.

Junior linebacking mates Mark Zavagnin and Joe Rudzinski again will assist Crable, while senior veterans Pat Kramer and Joe Gramke will anchor a retooled front four. Familiar names abound in the secondary, thanks to the return of cornerbacks John Krimm, Stacey Toran and Chris Brown, to go with safeties Dave Duerson, Rod Bone and Steve Cichy.

"We're probably not quite as big up front as Notre Dame teams have been the last few years, but we've got plenty of quickness to make up for that," says Faust. "Our speed and experience on that side of the line should give us a chance to gamble a little bit more. We want to be able to make things happen defensively and not just sit back and see what other teams try to do."

The kicking game again will be a Notre Dame strong point. Record-setting field-goal kicker Harry Oliver and punter Blair Kiel rate as the incumbents at those two slots. Oliver joins Carter, Hunter, Masztak and Pozderac on offense and Crable, Duerson and Zavagnin on defense as top Irish candidates for all-star honors.

Offense

Gerry Faust's offensive system provides for a variety of weapons, a complex scheme of formations including plenty of motion and shifting—and even a change in terminology, with the wingback slated to replace the flanker on the Notre Dame depth chart.

Occupying that wingback spot will be junior Tony Hunter, whose previous claim to fame has been as a split end, with 50 receptions to his credit over the last two years. This time around he'll spend half his time as a running back when the Irish line up in the full house—and the other half flanked out as a receiver. One of the best Irish athletes thanks to his size, speed and moves, he'll serve as a nifty complement for junior tailback Phil Carter and junior fullbacks Larry Moriarty and John Sweeney.

Carter ranks among the college game's elite at his position after averaging 151.2 yards per start last fall. He gained 822 yards despite missing nearly half the season with a leg injury. A 254-yard outburst against Michigan State made him the nation's second-ranking rusher, but a severe thigh bruise knocked him out of the lineup the next five weeks. Carter, whose speed and elusiveness ticket him for greatness, will have help from sophomore Greg Bell who worked his way into the number-two position with a quality spring effort.

A battle for the fullback slot figures to continue this fall, although Moriarty's quickness gives him a slight edge over Sweeney and his standout blocking. Sweeney has been the regular at that spot for two seasons, gaining 202 yards in '80, while Moriarty helped impressively as a specialty-teamer a year ago. Both will be major contributors in 1981.

Though he's coming off an injury-plagued junior season, veteran tight end Dean Masztak has few peers in the country at his position. A severe ankle sprain kept him out of six games last fall, but he should regain the form he showcased as a sophomore when he grabbed 28 passes for 428 yards. Junior Pete Buchanan, a spring convert from fullback, is the top backup.

Hunter's move to wingback opens the way for seniors Mike Boushka and Dave Condeni at split end. Boushka, a reserve flanker the past two seasons, enjoyed a marvelous spring at his new assignment. Condeni, who serves as holder on placekicks, also ranks as a proven performer as a pass-catcher. Yet another senior, speedster Tim Tripp, can be of service at either split end or wingback.

"Our biggest question mark offensively is whether or not all the players can absorb everything we throw at them. It's not a simple offense to run," admits Faust. "But, with our personnel, we can be successful if we can control the ball without making mistakes. It should enable us to throw or run the ball effectively from anywhere on the field."

Though sophomore incumbent Blair Kiel emerged as the leader at quarterback following a springtime tussle with senior Tim Koegel and fellow sophomore Scott Grooms, Faust admits the battle is not yet over. All three adapted impressively to the new offense, so Faust plans to consider things wide open until he names a starter several weeks into fall workouts.

"We told Blair and Tim and Scott that they'll come back and start one-two-three, in that order, but there isn't that much difference between the three of them," Faust says. "They all proved to me they can play. We wouldn't mind going into the LSU game with any one of them."

in which he became the first freshman to start for Notre Dame in 29 years and saw more action than any first-year Irish signalcaller since Gus Dorias in 1910. He started the final nine games of 1980 following first-rate relief jobs against Michigan and Michigan State.

Koegel, a superb passer all along, may finally get a chance to play after being granted an additional year of eligibility because of a neck injury last fall. Grooms played only briefly in three games in '80—but the great strides he made during spring drills proved he hadn't lost his touch.

The Irish offensive coaches made a pair of key position changes in the interior line, and both moves appeared to pay dividends. The first called for junior Mark Fischer to go from tight end to center, where he's the top candidate to replace All-American John Scully. He owns the blocking talent, as long as he adds 20 pounds to his 6-4 frame after playing at 220 a year ago. Senior Larry Kissner, the only letterman back at center, had an ankle injury hamper his spring bid for the job—but he'll contest the position this fall.

The other major change saw a pair of regulars—junior left tackle Mike Shiner and junior right guard Tom Thayer—exchange positions. That leaves the 6-8 Shiner at guard on the same side with talented 6-9 senior tackle Phil Pozderac. After earning rave reviews in '80 in their initial year as starters, they'll combine this fall to provide Notre Dame ballcarries with a tall and talented right side wall to run behind.

Thayer played more minutes than any other Irish guard last fall. His shift to left tackle positions him alongside junior left guard Randy Ellis, who started twice last year while helping at both guard and tackle. Other guards with the necessary credentials include seniors Robb Gagnon and Todd Bruni, both of whom are rebounding from leg injuries. Gagnon opened the '80 campaign as a starting guard before midseason knee surgery felled him, while Bruni also earned a monogram prior to a pre-Sugar Bowl broken leg. Senior letterman Pete Grogan and junior John Putzstuck provide support at tackle.

Defense

Youthfulness prevailed on the vastly-improved 1980 Notre Dame defensive unit that listed eight underclassmen as regulars. That same theme will be repeated this fall in Gerry Faust's initial tour of duty despite the fact the new Irish coach heads into the fall with a monogram-winner scheduled to start at all 11 positions.

Few teams can match Notre Dame's talent and depth at linebacker—where the starting trio, led by All-American Bob Crable, returns intact. Flanked by juniors Mark Zavagnin and Joe Rudzinski, they formed a unit that didn't miss a game last fall. All superb tacklers, they'll again be the heart of the Irish defense after combining for 300 stops a year ago.

Crable accounted for 154 of those tackles by himself—and he now needs only 126 more to become Notre Dame's all-time leader in that category. A cinch to repeat his All-America honors, the '81 defensive captain may rank as the best of a long list of past Irish stars at that position. Zavagnin and Rudzinski aren't far behind after breaking in as regulars as sophomores.

Sophomore Rick Naylor isn't far away from a starting assignment for the Irish, who didn't lose a single linebacker to graduation. He came on strong late in his freshman season and will have capable assistance from proven senior John Rice and another up-and-coming possibility, junior Jack Shields.

If there's uncertainty about this Notre Dame defensive unit, it revolves around the front four where ends Scott Zettek and John Hankerd both graduated. Accomplished seniors Pat Kramer and Joe Gramke will be the stalwarts of this group, Gramke at tackle and Kramer at end on the right side. They held down the tackle positions in '80, but each has experience at both tackle and end slots.

That leaves a pair of sophomores on the left side—converted linebacker Jon Autry at end and sophomore sensation Tim Marshall at tackle. Autry's presence at end is evidence of Faust's decision to eschew brute size and strength in favor of additional quickness and mobility. Autry, too, is no neophyte, having earned a monogram at linebacker as a freshman. Marshall worked his way into the front four picture before his freshman campaign ever started, later earning a pair of starting assignments during an impressive debut season.

Sophomore Mansel Carter made greater strides at end and will be of genuine assistance this fall. Only health problems will keep established junior Jeff Lueken, assuming he rebounds from April knee surgery, and senior letterman Tony Belden from contributing. Top tackle backups will be senior Tom Bock and junior Bob Clasby.

"I think we have pretty good depth throughout our defense, but we just don't have that tremendous physical size up front," Faust says. "We're not real big, but we will be quick and we've got plenty of people to choose from who have played before. If things work out to our satisfaction on the front line, we'll be alright."

Depth is plentiful in the secondary where only safety Tom Gibbons is missing. Crafty senior John Krimm and sophomore sensation Stacey Toran are back to reclaim their cornerback roles on the strong and weak sides, respectively. Krimm looks forward to his third campaign as a starter, while Toran moved in quickly, two games into his freshman go-round, and stuck as a regular. Monogram-winning sophomore speed demon Chris Brown enjoyed a profitable spring season and won't be easy to keep sidelined. He's capable of playing a variety of positions in the defensive backfield.

Junior all-star candidate Dave Duerson is prepared to handle the strong safety slot again—though he also boasts the savvy to play anywhere after seeing most of his duty at cornerback the last two years. Classmate Rod Bone moves into the free safety vacancy after serving his internship as both a cornerback and safety. Following a spring trial at linebacker, solid tackler Steve Cichy returns to work at safety. He began the '80 season as the starter at strong safety before a chipped vertebra in the season opener sidelined him the rest of the year. Walk-on senior cornerback Mike Masini and sophomore free safety Daane Spielmaker also fit into the picture.

"We made a few changes in what we'll do defensively, but most of them were subtle," Faust adds. "We didn't want to tamper with a good thing after the good defenses Notre Dame has had in the past. If this group can play with the intensity it finished last season, we'll be happy."

Kicking Game

Prospects for a strong kicking game are plentiful with the return of placekicking talent Harry Oliver, punter Blair Kiel and kickoff specialist Mike Johnston.

Oliver became a pleasant surprise last fall as an unproven junior when he came out of nowhere to kick a record 18 field goals in 23 attempts. The top returning placekicker in the country, he ranks as All-America material this time around. Six of his boots came from 40 yards or farther in '80, including his astounding 51-yarder versus Michigan.

Johnston, a junior walk-on, merited a monogram last fall after handling the Irish kickoff chores. Steve Cichy also could help in that department. Notre Dame must locate a new long snapper—with senior Ron Mishler the odds-on choice following his springtime work.

Kiel did all the punting in his freshman year, finishing with a nifty 40.1-yard average. Senior walk-on Brian Whelan is another possibility.

Secondary figures Dave Duerson, John Krimm and Stacey Toran will receive first call on punt returns—while Greg Bell and Chris Stone top the list of kickoff return candidates.

Faust Previews First Irish Season

Q. What goals did you set for the team during your first spring practice season?
A. We looked at four things we wanted to accomplish. First, we wanted to evaluate our personnel. We wanted to give everyone a fair shot based on what we saw on the field in those 20 workouts. Second, we wanted to put people in what we felt were the right positions. We moved some players and only time will tell if those were the right decisions. Third, we wanted to put in our offense and defense which were completely different in terminology. By the end of the spring I think everyone understood our scheme of things. Fourth, we wanted to try to improve on fundamentals.

Q. What can fans expect to see from the new multiple formation offense you'll be running?
A. Some of the differences will be visible because of the different sets and formations, shifts and motion we'll be using. Those sorts of things will be obvious. It's possible we'll throw a little bit more than Notre Dame teams have the last few years. I think that's important in keeping a defense off-balance. We'll do a lot of different things and use a lot of people. We may stick with certain things if they're working—depending on the defense's reaction to our different sets. It may look like a new offense each week, but we'll just be emphasizing different aspects of it.

Q. How do you view the quarterback situation?
A. We told Blair Kiel, Tim Koegel and Scott Grooms exactly how they stood at the end of spring ball. We also told all three of them the job will still be wide open when they come back this fall. Each one has his strengths and weaknesses. Blair needs to throw the ball a little softer. Tim needs to drop back quicker so he can throw the ball sooner. Scott just needs a little more confidence. All three really improved during the spring. We wouldn't be afraid to go into a game with any of the three.

Q. What role will the wingback play in the offense?
A. The wingback on our team probably should be the best athlete we have, or at least one of the best. It has to be someone who is really diversified because he'll be asked to do so many different things. That's why we want to put Tony Hunter there, because of his running, blocking and catching abilities. We want him to be around the football as much as possible.

Q. What do you like best about your offensive system?
A. The one thing that was most gratifying during the spring was that the players really seemed to love the offense. If they enjoy it and believe in it, that really makes a difference. I had several players come in and tell me they liked the offense because the defense never knew what we were going to do. The defensive players didn't know what was going to happen next, and that made it easier to move the ball.

Q. What about adjustments on defense?
A. Our adjustments won't show up as much defensively, except to fans who know the technical aspects of a defense and really study the game. Most fans watch hitting and interceptions and pursuit, but they don't really look at fronts or stunts or how a team reads keys. We hope to carry on the great tradition of past Notre Dame defenses, but to the average fan our defense won't look much different.

Q. Going into the season, what are your biggest worries on offense and defense?
A. The most difficult thing about the offense is learning it for the first time and then mastering all the details. I think it can be successful if we can count on the concentration necessary to execute well. Defensively, our front four remains a question mark simply because we're not real big. Our quickness will be improved, but we won't impress that many people with sheer physical size.

Q. What do you think of the schedule for 1981?
A. It's a tough one, there's not much doubt about that. It's what I would call a national championship schedule. There are at least three or four teams on there that could win the national championship this year. That should make it really interesting for us.

Q. Did anything about your first on-the-field experience at the collegiate level during the spring surprise you?
A. I guess it really didn't surprise me that much, but the most satisfying thing was how easy the players were to handle. They were enthusiastic and energetic, they've got that Notre Dame spirit and they give you everything they've got. You can't ask for more than that as a coach. They really made for an enjoyable spring for all of us. If we can carry that attitude on this fall, it'll be a great experience coaching here at Notre Dame.

Q. The subject of the pressure on a Notre Dame football coach always seems to be mentioned. Does that bother you?
A. I think I'm the kind of person who thrives on pressure. I realize I've never coached at the college level before, but we were under a lot of pressure to win at Moeller, too. I know the high school level isn't the same thing, but when you've won 30 or 35 straight games, there's pressure involved. People connected with Moeller expected us to win, so I'm not worried about handling that part of it here.

Q. What excites you most about the 1981 season?
A. I've told people all along that coaching at Notre Dame has been my dream for a number of years. That's why I'm looking forward to this season so much. I know there will be a great deal of work involved, but I think it will be a great challenge and it should be fun for all of us. I'm a little anxious just because I haven't been through this before. I think I know enough about football, but I've never been on the field against Michigan or Penn State or Southern Cal. I'll be a lot more comfortable after going through a whole season because then I'll know exactly what needs to be done.

The University of Notre Dame du Lac

The University of Notre Dame was founded in 1842 by a young French priest of the Congregation of Holy Cross. The 28-year-old Rev. Edward F. Sorin, C.S.C., started his school in the northern Indiana wilderness with 524 acres, $300 and a log building in bad repair. In 1844 the University of Notre Dame du Lac was chartered by the state of Indiana. Father Sorin's initial educational program adapted the classic liberal arts curriculum to the needs of the frontier.

The University was governed by the Holy Cross Fathers until 1967 when it became the first major Catholic university to transfer governance to a predominantly lay board of trustees. Since then, Edmund A. Stephan, a Chicago attorney, has been chairman of the board of trustees. Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., has headed the University as president since 1952, a term longer than any other president at any major college or university.

Notre Dame's 1,250-acre campus, with its twin lakes and wooded areas, is located just north of South Bend, Ind., with a population of about 130,000. The University's physical plant of 100 buildings has an insured replacement value of more than $300 million. Some 35 buildings have been erected during the Hesburgh administration, including one of the world's largest collegiate libraries. Notre Dame's library system contains about 1.4 million volumes with an annual acquisition rate of about 40,000 volumes.

Notre Dame's main academic units are the four undergraduate colleges—Arts and Letters, Science, Engineering and Business Administration—and the Law School. There is no separate graduate faculty, as even the most senior members teach undergraduate courses; and virtually all the academic departments offer advanced degree programs.

The University also contains several institutes or centers of learning, such as: the Center for the Study of Man in Contemporary Society, for research in the social sciences and humanities; the Radiation Laboratory, the world's largest collection of research chemists studying the effects of radiation on matter; Lobund Laboratory, for germfree animal research; the Center for Pastoral and Social Ministry, with its programs serving the Church; the Law School's Institute for Public Policy Research; the Institute for Urban Studies, and the Helen Kellogg Institute for International Studies.

Notre Dame's teaching and research faculty numbers about 700, almost all full-time. An additional 116 persons are classified as professional specialists and research fellows. About nine in ten faculty members are lay persons and 80 percent hold doctorates or the equivalent. Faculty members and graduate students do about $10 million in research and sponsored programs annually.

In addition to an extensive intramural athletic program, Notre Dame's role in intercollegiate sports, most notably its legendary football teams, are an important ingredient in campus life. The University's varsity athletes meet the same academic standards required of all students—as evidenced by the fact that 98 percent receive their degrees. Notre Dame ranks among the leaders in the number of postgraduate NCAA scholarship awards given its athletes.

About two-thirds of Notre Dame's 65,000 alumni graduated while Father Hesburgh has been president. Most of them are organized into a network of 150 alumni clubs throughout the United States and the Alumni Association is regionally represented by a 19-member board of directors. More than half of Notre Dame's alumni contribute annually, and during the recently completed Campaign for Notre Dame, 86 percent of the alumni made gifts or commitments. The campaign generated $180.5 million toward the $130 million goal.

Admission is highly competitive with about four applicants for each freshman class position. About 75 percent of those accepted were in the top 10 percent of their high school classes. While scholastic aptitude is important, Notre Dame students are chosen for other qualities and talents as well. About 10 percent of those selected were presidents of their senior classes or student bodies, and about 19 percent were captains of at least one varsity athletic team.

Notre Dame is one of the country's few truly national colleges or universities. Its student body represents all 50 states and about 65 foreign countries. While about 90 percent of the students are Catholic, religion is not considered in screening applicants. Although its graduate programs had been coeducational for some time, the University's undergraduate ranks were not opened to women until 1972. Today about one-fourth the student body is female in a student population of 7,000.

Another 1,200 students are enrolled in graduate programs and another 600 in Law School or in the Master's in Business Administration Program. About half of Notre Dame's seniors go on to graduate or professional schools with 80 percent of those applying to medical or dental school accepted—a figure twice the national average.

Residentiality is a valued tradition at Notre Dame as about three-fourths of the undergraduates lives on campus in 24 residence halls. At Notre Dame where more is meant by "education" than what is taught in the classroom and laboratory, the residence hall is a community of young people learning how to live, not just how to earn a living. The students' social, religious and intramural athletic interests are centered in the residence halls.

"First things come first and the first things for us are academics. I tell every squad of athletes that when the students return to campus each fall."

Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, C.S.C.

Executive Vice President and Chairman, Faculty Board in Control of Athletics

The University of Notre Dame celebrated a pair of noteworthy silver anniversaries in 1977. The Reverends Theodore M. Hesburgh and Edmund P. Joyce both concluded their twenty-fifth year at the University in their present capacities—Hesburgh as president and Joyce as executive vice president and treasurer.

Both men have become nationally renowned in their respective fields and have been frequently decorated for their contributions to them. Probably the most fitting honor was bestowed upon Father Joyce in December of 1977, when he received the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame's Distinguished American Award—in the process joining a list of prominent former recipients that includes Father Hesburgh, Vince Lombardi, Bob Hope and Archibald MacLeish.

Father Joyce's accomplishments have not been limited to the Notre Dame campus but extend to athletics across the nation. However, while devoting a vast amount of time to the advanced planning of the University, Father Joyce serves as Chairman of the University Building Committee. In this capacity and that as Chairman of the Faculty Board in Control of Athletics he coordinated the planning and construction of the Athletic and Convocation Center. University officials have announced that upon his retirement this building will be renamed the Joyce Athletic and Convocation Center in his honor.

A native of Spartanburg, S.C., Father Joyce was graduated magna cum laude from Notre Dame with a Bachelor of Science degree in 1937. He became a certified public accountant in 1939. Six years later, he enrolled in the Holy Cross Seminary—the theological house of studies of the Congregation of Holy Cross.

He was ordained a priest in the Sacred Heart Church at Notre Dame in 1949. Following his ordination, Father Joyce was named assistant vice president for business affairs at Notre Dame and then became acting vice president in 1950.

Two years later, he was appointed executive vice president and second in the University's chain of command.

Father Joyce pursued graduate study at Oxford University in England and holds honorary doctorates from the College of St. Thomas in St. Paul, Minn., and Belmont Abbey College. He is a member of the Board of Visitors of the United States Naval Academy and was awarded the Exceptional Service Medal by the Air Force.

Although he tells the story with tongue in cheek, Father Joyce played basketball for Oxford University when that hallowed English seat of learning won the European Championship.

Father Joyce represented Notre Dame at the White House Conference on Education in 1955 and also has been a trustee of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

"I love the fact Notre Dame succeeds with the philosophy the athlete has to be a student. That counts even more than wins and losses."

Gene Corrigan

Athletic Director

In his long and diversified career in intercollegiate athletics, Gene Corrigan has occupied almost every desk imaginable in a college athletic department. And he brings the experience and knowledge gained in those jobs—moments that have shaped his progressive philosophies and ideas—to his everyday dealings as athletic director at the University of Notre Dame.

The 53-year-old Corrigan assumed his present post on January 5, 1981, and in his first few months on the job, his reputation as an achiever with an eye for the future has held true.

One of his first tasks was to help in the planning and organization of an athletic endowment fund which will allow Notre Dame not only to maintain but also to expand athletic opportunities for both men and women at the varsity, club and intramural levels.

Prior to joining the Notre Dame ranks, Corrigan served as director of athletic programs at the University of Virginia. During his nine-year tenure Corrigan was credited with the rapid development of a reputable 23-sport athletic program which included the addition of 10 women's sports.

While at Virginia, Corrigan directed a multimillion-dollar renovation program which encompassed a new baseball stadium, a tartan-surface track, expansion of tennis facilities, the building of an intramural recreation complex and an addition of 14,000 seats to Scott Stadium, the Cavaliers' football facility. The expansion and growth of Virginia's athletic programs largely were financed by fund-raising activities directed by Corrigan.

A native of Baltimore, Corrigan participated in nearly every sport offered at Loyola High School. After graduation in 1946, Corrigan joined the U.S. Army and served an 18-month stint.

Despite wanting to play collegiate hockey, Corrigan enrolled at Duke University after his discharge from the Army. He filled his competitive urge by playing lacrosse for the Blue Devils.

After receiving his degree in liberal arts in 1952, Corrigan returned to Baltimore and taught Latin, English and history and coached football, basketball and lacrosse at St. Paul's School.

Corrigan moved to the collegiate ranks in 1955 as head basketball, lacrosse and soccer coach at Washington and Lee University. After three years, he began his first nine-year association with the University of Virginia as head lacrosse, head soccer and assistant basketball coach.

He relinquished his basketball coaching duties after three years, but began working as Virginia's sports information director as well as teaching in the physical education department.

Corrigan left Virginia in July, 1967, to become assistant commissioner of the Atlantic Coast Conference where he handled the news bureau, officials and investigations.

He returned to Washington and Lee as athletic director in 1969. After two years, he went back to Virginia for another nine-year stint—this time as director of athletic programs.

Corrigan married the former Lena Natale on April 6, 1953. They have seven children: Louise (Mrs. Scott Wawner), Kathryn, 25; David, 23; Kevin, 22; Brian, 20; Timothy, 18; and Boo, 14.

Head Coach Gerry Faust

Success is no stranger to Gerry Faust.

He knows it well following an amazingly prosperous 18-year tenure as head coach at Moeller High School in Cincinnati, Ohio. He now hopes he can transfer that same formula for success to the collegiate level as the 24th head football coach at the University of Notre Dame.

When Faust accepted the Notre Dame job on the afternoon of November 24, 1980, he agreed to leave behind possibly the most accomplished high school football program in the nation.

In his 18 seasons at Moeller—a Catholic school with an enrollment of 1,000 students—he produced a glittering record of 174 wins, 17 losses and two ties for a .907 winning percentage.

Five of Faust's last six Moeller teams captured the Ohio Class AAA state championship in playoff competition—including his 1980 team which finished 13-0 following a 30-7 trouncing of traditional Ohio prep power Massillon in the title game. His Crusaders have won 10 of 12 post-season games since the playoffs were instituted in Ohio beginning with the 1972 campaign.

Since taking over at Moeller in 1963, Faust's coaching has produced 12 Greater Cincinnati League (GCL) championships, including league crowns each of the last eight years. His Crusaders have recorded a 92-11-1 mark in conference play and now have emerged victorious in 40 consecutive league games. Not since traditional rival Princeton slipped past Moeller 13-12 in 1972 have the Crusaders dropped a conference contest.

Moeller has claimed the Cincinnati city championship in 10 of the last 12 seasons and the regional crown in eight of the last 10 years. Faust's Crusaders have been awarded mythical national championships following their unbeaten seasons in 1976, '77, '79 and '80.

On nine occasions under Faust, Moeller has finished the regular season without a loss, and all but two of those teams remained that way through playoff competition. The Crusaders own a current 33-game winning streak and have won 70 of their 71 and 90 of their last 93 games. Faust's teams won 53 straight regular-season games between 1972 and 1978. That string and one of 37 consecutive overall victories came to an end in the '78 loss to Princeton.

More than half of Faust's 174 victories at Moeller—90 of them, to be exact—came via the shutout route, testifying to the perennial strength of the Crusader defensive units. Moeller finished atop the final Associated Press and United Press International state high school rankings in 1974, '76, '77, '79 and '80.

As remarkable as Faust's record has been on the field, he takes particular pride in the approximately 250 Moeller athletes who have earned football scholarships on the collegiate level. Eighteen of his players have moved on to play at Notre Dame, including six current Irish—co-captain and All-America linebacker Bob Crable, split end Tony Hunter, placekicker Harry Oliver, quarterback Tim Koegel, split end Dave Condeni and linebacker Rick Naylor. Three of those 18—fullback Mark Brooks and linebackers Mike Larkin and Mike Lane—will join the Irish this fall as freshmen.

Other Faust-coached Moeller players who came to Notre Dame included (with year entered school in parentheses) center Dan Novakov (1968), tight end Dave Schwarber ('71), offensive tackle Steve Sylvester ('71), defensive tackle Steve Niehaus ('72), linebacker Tony Novakov ('72), tight end/offensive guard John Driscoll ('73), offensive guard Harry Woebkenberg ('73), defensive tackle Jay Case ('74) and split end Tim Heitzman ('74).

In addition to his coaching duties at Moeller—where he supervised a football program that yearly included more than 200 boys playing on the varsity, varsity reserve and freshman squads—Faust also served as athletic director. Coach of 22 high school All-Americans in his 18 seasons, he received national prep coach of the year honors in 1979.

Faust became known as the architect of Moeller's swarming 4-4 defense and a sophisticated, wide-open offense that featured more than 40 plays run from more than a dozen formations.

In addition to defeating the best high school teams Ohio had to offer, Faust also scheduled and defeated five highly-regarded powerhouse prep teams from other states. His Crusaders knocked off the top squads from New York (30-0 over Farrell in '77), Texas (37-7 over Dallas Jesuit in '78), Pennsylvania (30-13 over Pittsburgh Penn Hills in '79), Michigan (33-14 over Detroit Brother Rice in '79) and the District of Columbia (34-0 over DeMatha in '80).

Also a gifted motivational speaker and a dynamic and highly-acclaimed lecturer, Faust often delivers several dozen addresses during the off-season—many of them to representatives of major corporations around the country.

Born on May 21, 1935, in Dayton, Ohio, Gerard Anthony Faust, Jr., began playing football at Chaminade High School in Dayton, where his father—Gerry, Sr.—coached for 49 years. A backup defensive back as a sophomore, Faust started at quarterback his last two years, earning all-state honors as a senior. He participated in the Ohio high school all-star game that summer—with Len Dawson as the opposing quarterback.

Faust moved on to the University of Dayton where he earned three letters in football as a quarterback—and played for a time under former Notre Dame head coach Hugh Devore. A marketing and management student, he received his undergraduate degree in 1958.

Following his graduation from Dayton, Faust returned to Chaminade to join his father's coaching staff. After spending the 1958 and '59 seasons as offensive and defensive backfield coach at Chaminade, he moved to Moeller which first opened with only a freshman class in 1960.

Faust coached the freshman squad in '60 and also served as a volunteer assistant at Roosevelt and Colonel White high schools in Cincinnati to gain additional experience. Moeller played a varsity reserve schedule in both 1961 and '62 and then fielded its first varsity team with a senior class in '63. That first Faust-coached Moeller team shocked the Cincinnati high school ranks by finishing 9-1—and Faust made that sort of success commonplace over the 18 seasons he spent at Moeller.

The 46-year-old Faust and his wife, Marlene, are parents of three children—Julie Marie, 15, Gerry III, 13 and Steve, 12.

BRIAN BOULAC — Assistant Head Coach, Defensive Line Coach and Recruiting Coordinator

Former Fighting Irish tight end Brian Boulac heads into his 12th season as a member of the Notre Dame football staff, his first as Gerry Faust's assistant head coach. Also tutor of the defensive ends on the Irish front line and head of the specialty teams, Boulac is in his sixth campaign as coordinator of all recruiting efforts.

The 40-year-old Olympia, Wash., native switches over to defense this fall after spending the last 11 years coaching the Irish offensive linemen. He also served as Dan Devine's administrative assistant the past two years.

Boulac earned monograms as a player at Notre Dame from 1960-62. Following his graduation from the University in 1963, he had a tryout with the St. Louis Cardinals, but elected to stay on campus as a graduate assistant coach from 1964-66 while working toward his master's degree. Boulac, who spent two summers in a Peace Corps-type program (CILA) in Lima, Peru, and served two years in the Army Medical Service Corps, remained at Notre Dame through 1968, doing doctoral work and coaching football.

Boulac earned 10 letters in high school while playing football, baseball, basketball and track—and earning all-state honors in football and basketball.

Boulac and his wife, Micki, have four daughters: Dawn, 14, Denise, 11, Deborah, 10, and Dyan, 9.

TOM LICHTENBERG — Offensive Coordinator and Quarterback and Receiver Coach

Tom Lichtenberg takes over as Notre Dame's offensive coordinator and quarterback and receiver coach following two seasons as head coach at Morehead State in Kentucky.

The 41-year-old Cincinnati native began his coaching career as head coach at Mason (Ohio) High School—then went to Purcell High School in Cincinnati where he coached against Gerry Faust.

Lichtenberg moved to Morehead State for two campaigns as defensive backfield coach in 1972-73, then spent five seasons as an assistant at Iowa State through 1978. He worked on the same staff with Tom Backhus his first two years with the Cyclones, and served as offensive coordinator for current Ohio State coach Earle Bruce in '78 at Iowa State.

A 1963 graduate of Louisville where he played running back and outside linebacker, he returned to Morehead State as head coach and finished 5-4-1 last fall for a two-year mark of 9-11-1.

Lichtenberg, married to the former Sue Ann Reding, is the father of five children—Tami, 20, Michelle, 17, Tom, 14, Susan, 12, and Tony, 9.

GREG BLACHE — Running Back Coach

Returning to the Notre Dame scene following a five-year stint as an assistant coach at Tulane, former Irish player and coach Greg Blache will handle the Notre Dame running backs.

The 31-year-old New Orleans, La., native first came to Notre Dame in 1967 as a defensive back—but an injury his freshman season ended his playing career. He served the next three years as a student assistant coach helping the freshmen under Ara Parseghian.

Following his graduation in 1971, Blache remained on the staff as a graduate assistant, working as defensive coordinator for the freshmen in 1971 and 1972. He earned his master's degree in education in 1972, then spent the following three seasons as a full-time assistant coaching the junior varsity.

Blache moved to Tulane in December, 1975, and worked this past season with the defensive backs after previously coaching the offensive line and outside linebackers. He also coached the linebackers as a member of Parseghian's staff at the '76 College All-Star game in Chicago.

Blache is married to the former Bernardine Moore and is the father of three children—Greg, Jr., 10, Christopher, 4, and Corinne, 3.

TOM BACKHUS — Head Offensive Line Coach

Gerry Faust's first prep All-American as a player at Moeller High School, Tom Backhus joins the Irish staff as head offensive line coach with specific responsibility for the tackles and ends.

The 33-year-old Cincinnati native is a veteran of eight seasons of coaching at the intercollegiate level, serving as offensive line coach at Tampa in 1972, at Iowa State in 1973-75 and at Wisconsin in 1976-77. He joined the Air Force staff as offensive line coach in 1979 and held the offensive coordinator position for the Falcons last fall.

Captain of Faust's 1965 Moeller squad, Backhus played offensive guard at Ohio State, earning all-Big Ten honors as a senior and helping the Buckeyes to the national championship in 1968.

Following his graduation from Ohio State with a degree in marketing in 1970, he spent a year as Woody Hayes' graduate assistant before moving to Tampa. He served on the same staff with Tom Lichtenberg at Iowa State from 1974-75.

Backhus and his wife, Dolores, are the parents of three daughters—Leilah, Lauren and Jessica.

JIM HIGGINS — Offensive Line Coach

Joining Gerry Faust in the move from Moeller High School to Notre Dame is Jim Higgins who will join with Tom Backhus this fall in coaching the Irish offensive linemen following seven seasons as offensive line coach at Moeller.

He molded the Moeller offensive lines which helped the Crusaders post an 80-2 record during his seven seasons, winning the Ohio Class AAA state crown five of the last six years.

A 38-year-old native of Cincinnati, Higgins previously spent four years as an assistant at Purcell High School in Cincinnati from 1970-73. After graduating from Purcell in 1960, he became a three-year starter in football as an offensive guard at Xavier. Recipient of a political science degree in 1964, he spent one year as a graduate assistant at Xavier, eventually earning his master's degree in history in 1969.

A veteran of five seasons in professional football, Higgins played three years with the Edmonton Eskimos of the Canadian Football League and two others with the Miami Dolphins of the American Football League.

Higgins and his wife, Linda, are parents of two sons—Jamie, 4, and Shawn, 1.

JIM JOHNSON — Defensive Coordinator and Defensive Backfield Coach

Now in his fifth campaign on the Notre Dame coaching staff, Jim Johnson takes over as the Irish defensive coordinator this fall in addition to maintaining his post as head of operations in the secondary.

Prior to joining the Irish in 1977, the Broadview, Ill., native worked under Lee Corso at Indiana while handling the Hoosier linebackers and coordinating the Indiana defense for four years.

Johnson attended Proviso East High School in Maywood, Ill., where he played football under former Notre Dame great Andy Puplis. He then took his football talents to Missouri where he starred at both quarterback and safety under Dan Devine from 1960-62. As a two-way starter for the Tigers, Johnson participated in both the Orange Bowl and the Bluebonnet Bowl, earning the MVP award in the latter classic in 1962. After playing in the East-West Shrine game, Johnson signed with the Buffalo Bills and went on to play one season in the NFL as a tight end before entering coaching.

The 39-year-old Johnson began his coaching career as an assistant at Joplin (Mo.) High School, then became head coach at Missouri Southern Junior College. His first team at Missouri Southern finished third in the nation. Johnson moved to Drake as defensive coordinator in 1968—and remained there until beginning his tenure at Indiana in 1973.

A 1963 graduate of Missouri, Johnson earned his master's degree in physical education the following year. He and his wife, Vicky, have a son, Scott, and a daughter, Michelle.

GEORGE KELLY — Linebacker Coach

The veteran of Gerry Faust's crew of assistant coaches, George Kelly is beginning his 13th season as a member of the Notre Dame staff. Director of the Irish linebackers all during that tenure, Kelly has been a key figure in molding a long series of top-notch defensive units.

A native of Rockford, Ill., Kelly first came to the Notre Dame campus as a student in 1949. He played one season of freshman football—but an injury in 1950 cut his competitive career short.

After graduating from Notre Dame in 1953, Kelly remained in South Bend and joined the football staff at St. Joseph's High School. The following year he assumed the head football coaching reins at the school.

Kelly jumped to the collegiate ranks in 1956, beginning as an assistant coach at Marquette. Three years later he moved to Nebraska where he spent eight seasons as an assistant under Husker head coach Bob Devaney. With Kelly a key member of the Nebraska brain trust, the Huskers led the nation in total defense in 1963 and 1967. He joined the Notre Dame staff beginning with the 1969 season.

The 52-year-old Kelly and his wife, the former Gloria Haddad, have four children: Barbara (Mrs. Mike Gorbitz), Patti (Mrs. Greg Jurgonski), Lori, 21, and Kevin, 18, a freshman at the University.

BILL MEYERS — Defensive Line Coach

Now in his third season as an Irish assistant coach, Bill Meyers switches over to the defensive side of the line this fall as coach of Notre Dame's defensive tackles. He and Brian Boulac have shared duties with the offensive line the last two years—but this time they'll be working with the defensive line.

A two-year starter and all-coast lineman as a player at Stanford, the 34-year-old Meyers was a member of the victorious Cardinal Rose Bowl squads following the 1970 and '71 seasons. Born in Chippewa Falls, Wis., he played his high school football in Long Beach, Calif., and earned All-America junior college honors at Long Beach City College.

After his graduation from Stanford in 1972, Meyers first joined the California-Berkeley staff as a graduate assistant working with the defensive line. Two years later, he moved to Santa Clara as linebacker and defensive coach for three seasons.

He rejoined the Cal staff as offensive line coach in 1977, spending two more seasons with the Bears before moving to Notre Dame.

A Marine Corps veteran, Meyers and his wife, Cathie, have a son, Charlie, 9, and a daughter, Michelle, 4.

JOE YONTO — Administrative Assistant

Following 17 seasons as taskmaster of the perennially-tough Notre Dame defensive lines, Joe Yonto moves over to the administrative ranks this fall as administrative assistant to head coach Gerry Faust. Also the Irish defensive coordinator the past four years, Yonto now helps coordinate all facets of the football program with Faust.

Born in Orrville, Ohio, Yonto played fullback on the 1945 Notre Dame team and guard on the '46 edition. As a senior the following year, he served as an assistant freshman coach after being forced out of action with a leg injury.

Yonto's high school coaching credits include tenures at St. Mary's in Michigan City, Ind., St. Stephen's in Port Huron, Mich., and Mount Carmel and St. Rita's in Chicago.

Before joining the Notre Dame ranks in 1964, Yonto also coached seven years at Notre Dame High School in Niles, Ill. His teams claimed three consecutive Chicago Suburban Catholic League titles from 1960 through 1962, including a perfect 10-game season in 1961. His 16-year high school coaching record was 96-42-7. He was inducted into the Wayne County Sports Hall of Fame in June, 1979, in Wooster, Ohio.

Named the Notre Dame Man of the Year in 1975 by the St. Joseph Valley Club, Yonto is married to the former Betty Rose of Michigan City, Ind. They have six children: Mary Jo (Mrs. Peter Sullivan), Carol (Mrs. James McDonald), Tony, Robert, Theresa (Mrs. Tim Scott) and Joey.

Allerheiligen received his degree in physical education from the University of Nebraska in 1978. He served as assistant strength coach for the Cornhuskers for two years.

A native of Concordia, Kan., the 31-year-old Allerheiligen has authored weight training and conditioning articles for Strength and Health and Young Athlete magazines as well as Irish Iron, which details the year-round weight training and conditioning program for Notre Dame football players.

In addition to aiding the organization of the National Strength Coaches Association, Allerheiligen helped develop a weight training program for the Nebraska Penal Complex.

He married the former Robin Smith in July, 1975.

MARTY DETMER — Graduate Assistant Coach

Helping the Notre Dame tight ends this fall as a graduate assistant will be former Irish tight end Marty Detmer.

The 22-year-old Highland Park, Ill., native earned a monogram each of the last three seasons as a backup tight end for the Irish. Though he did not catch a pass, Detmer's impressive blocking and special team contributions enabled him to play in every game of his sophomore and junior seasons and the final nine in 1980. He started against Alabama in Birmingham when Notre Dame opened with a double tight end attack.

A former all-state player at Glenbard West High School in Glen Ellyn, Detmer helped his team to the runnerup spot in the Illinois Class 5-A playoffs as a senior.

Detmer received his undergraduate degree from Notre Dame last May, with a major in English and a minor in education. Currently enrolled in the Loyola (Chi.) University graduate education program, he'll be taking courses here at Notre Dame during the fall semester, then returning to the Loyola campus for the spring term.

TOM FLYNN — Graduate Assistant Coach

Former Irish defensive back Tom Flynn joins the coaching ranks this fall as a graduate assistant helping the Notre Dame secondary.

A three-time monogram-winner as a cornerback, the West Palm Beach, Fla., native helped the Irish to bowl victories following each of his last three seasons, 1976 through 1978.

After playing briefly as a free agent with the Dallas Cowboys, Flynn worked in the construction business for nearly a year before returning to Notre Dame in the summer of 1980 to enter law school. He'll be beginning his second year of law studies this fall.

A former three-sport star at Cardinal Newman High School, Flynn earned a total of eight letters while competing in football, basketball and track and captaining the football squad as a senior.

He intercepted a pass against Georgia Tech as a junior and also helped out the Irish specialty teams during his tenure in the Notre Dame defensive backfield.

Flynn, 24, married the former Lisa Caponigri in May of 1980.

TOM CONNELLY — Part-Time Assistant Coach

South Bend native Tom Connelly begins his sixth season as a part-time assistant coach on the Notre Dame football staff.

The 39-year-old Connelly, who served as head football coach at John Adams High School in South Bend during the '73, '74 and '75 seasons, works with the Irish offensive prep team.

While a student at South Bend Central High School, Connelly played football for head coach Ross Stephenson, now another part-time coach on the Irish staff. Connelly earned all-state honors at quarterback as Central produced a pair of unbeaten, untied seasons to claim two state championships.

Connelly continued his football career as a defensive back for four years at Iowa State. He received his degree in education in 1965. He served as an assistant football and wrestling coach at Riley High School before moving to Adams. He continues to teach social studies at Adams.

Connelly and his wife Karen have one daughter, Krissie, 6.

Ross Stephenson heads into his seventh season as a part-time assistant coach in charge of scouting Notre Dame's football opponents.

Active in high school athletics in the South Bend Community School Corporation for nearly 35 years, the 59-year-old South Bend native has been coordinator of physical education for the South Bend schools since 1973.

Stephenson served on the South Bend Central High School football coaching staff from 1947 through 1970—handling the head coaching chores in 1952 and 1968—and holding down the athletic director duties from 1952-70. Previously the backfield coach on the Bloom High School staff in Chicago Heights, Ill., in 1946, Stephenson also spent three seasons (1970-72) as head football coach at South Bend LaSalle High School.

A graduate of South Bend Riley High School, Stephenson played quarterback and halfback at Eastern Illinois University, earning his degree in 1943. He received his master's degree from the University of Illinois in 1948.

DAVE MITCHELL — Part-Time Assistant Coach

Former Irish fullback Dave Mitchell will aid Gerry Faust's staff this season as a part-time assistant coach.

Mitchell, who served as a graduate assistant under Dan Devine last year, earned a pair of monograms during the '77 and '78 campaigns. A knee injury in the '79 Blue-Gold game forced him to miss his senior season.

As a sophomore, Mitchell gained 303 yards on 82 carries, the third best rushing total on the national championship squad, and scored the winning touchdown against Purdue. He underwent shoulder surgery prior to his junior outing and saw action in all but three games that year as a reserve fullback.

The Phoenix, Ariz., native attended St. Mary's High School where his single-season rushing total of 1,913 yards ranked as the second-highest figure in Arizona prep history.

Mitchell received his degree in economics from Notre Dame in 1980. He currently is working toward his certification in education.

KEVIN McCORMICK — Part-Time Assistant Coach

A former player and assistant coach under Gerry Faust at Moeller High School in Cincinnati, Kevin McCormick will handle the Irish defensive prep teams this season.

McCormick went on to attend Xavier where he continued to help the Moeller program by directing the Crusaders' prep teams during his undergraduate years. After receiving his degree in marketing in 1980, he worked for McCormick Equipment Company in Cincinnati before coming to Notre Dame last spring.

In addition to his coaching chores at Notre Dame, McCormick also is employed by Knollwood Country Club.

One of 10 children in his family, both his father and one sister are Notre Dame graduates.

Col. JOHN STEPHENS — Associate Athletic Director

Helping Gene Corrigan with all phases of Notre Dame's wide-ranging athletic program is Jack Stephens, now in his 14th year as a member of the Irish athletic administration.

Prior to assuming his present position in 1976, Stephens had been an assistant athletic director at Notre Dame since July, 1968, following his voluntary retirement as professor of military science and commanding officer of the Army ROTC unit at the University.

A director of the Walter Camp Football Foundation, Stephens graduated from the University of Iowa and received his master's degree in guidance and counseling from the University of Notre Dame.

After a tenure as a military attache in India, Stephens served as an advisor for the armies of Turkey and South Korea. He has been awarded the Legion of Merit, the Silver Star, the Bronze Star with two oak-leaf clusters and the Purple Heart. He has been an infantry officer in both command and staff assignments at the battalion, regiment and battle group levels. He was inducted into the Infantry Officers' Candidate Hall of Fame in 1966.

ROGER VALDISERRI — Assistant Athletic Director and Sports Information Director

Now in his 16th season as Notre Dame's sports information director, Roger Valdiserri also handles a variety of administrative responsibilities in his role as assistant athletic director for the last five years.

Following his 1954 graduation from Notre Dame Valdiserri served his first stint at his alma mater as an administrative assistant to Irish football coach Terry Brennan. In 1959, he went to Mercedes-Benz of North America as public relations director, then moved to the Kansas City Chiefs professional football team as public relations director in 1964. Valdiserri returned to Notre Dame as sports information director in 1966 and added the responsibilities of assistant athletic director in 1976.

Since 1976 he has earned 31 awards from the College Sports Information Directors of America for his sports publications, many of the citations honoring his programs and press guides as best in the nation. Valdiserri, a member of the NCAA public relations committee, served as press liaison for the U.S. All-Star basketball team that toured the People's Republic of China in the summer of 1973—after performing the same duties the previous year with the U.S. fencing team at the Junior World Championships in Spain.

JOHN HEISLER — Assistant Sports Information Director

The 26-year-old Heisler, who occupied the same position at the University of Missouri for one year prior to coming to Notre Dame, has helped edit a variety of award-winning publications in his first three years—including several judged best in the nation by College Sports Information Directors of America panels.

Heisler spent four years working in the Missouri sports information office as a student, handling publicity for basketball and several non-revenue sports. Following his graduation from Missouri's School of Journalism in December of 1976, he was named the first full-time assistant to Missouri sports information director Bill Callahan—then moved to Notre Dame one year later. During his stay at Missouri, Heisler served five years as campus correspondent for the St. Louis Globe-Democrat and the Associated Press. He also worked two summers as an intern in the Kansas City Star sports department.

KAREN CROAKE — Assistant Sports Information Director

Karen Croake moves into her third year as assistant sports information director at Notre Dame following one year in that same capacity at the University of North Carolina.

Since joining the Notre Dame staff in August, 1979, she has helped edit several award-winning publications—including football and basketball programs and basketball and soccer guides which each have been voted best in the nation by the College Sports Information Directors of America. Croake also won national acclaim for her swimming, tennis and lacrosse guides at North Carolina.

A 1976 journalism graduate of Purdue University, Croake spent one year as a sports information student assistant there after working three years as a sports staffer for the Purdue Exponent. She then served two years as a graduate assistant in sports information at Purdue until earning her master's degree in mass communications in 1978.

The 27-year-old Croake attended Jefferson High School in Lafayette, Ind., where she spent the summer of 1977 working for WASK radio news. She is a native of Middletown, Ohio.

STEVE ORSINI — Ticket and Promotions Manager

Former Irish gridder Steve Orsini is in his first campaign as director of Notre Dame's expanding ticket department following his appointment as University ticket manager last February. His duties also include directing all athletic promotional efforts.

His increasingly complex operation now includes the use of University computer facilities to aid in the allocation, distribution and mailing of tickets for all University events.

The 25-year-old Orsini joined the Irish staff after spending three years as a certified public accountant for a Woodbury, N.Y., firm.

A native of Hummelstown, Pa., Orsini is a 1978 Notre Dame graduate with a degree in accounting.

He served as specialty team captain of the 1977 Irish national championship football team, gaining 339 career rushing yards and earning three monograms from his fullback slot.

GENE O'NEILL — Varsity Equipment Manager

As varsity equipment manager, Gene O'Neill supervises the procurement, maintenance, storage and distribution of athletic equipment for all of Notre Dame's men's and women's varsity sports.

O'Neill began his association with the University as football equipment manager in August, 1967, but added the responsibility of overseeing the equipment operations for all varsity sports a year later.

O'Neill served nearly 25 years in the United States Air Force as a non-commissioned officer before retiring in June, 1967. Included in his Air Force tour of duty was an assignment as an instructor in the Notre Dame Air Force ROTC from May, 1954, to August, 1959. O'Neill, a native of Lawrence, Mass., attended the University of Maryland.

Married to the former Helen M. Lewis of White Plains, N.Y., O'Neill and his wife have 11 children: Kathleen, Maribeth, Michael, Daniel and Thomas O'Neill and William, Jr., Mark, Charles, Cathleen, James and Mary-Beth Lewis.

GENE PASZKIET — Senior Staff Trainer

Now in his 29th season at Notre Dame, Gene Paszkiet serves as senior staff trainer for the Fighting Irish athletic program, working primarily with the football team.

A native of South Bend, Ind., Paszkiet attended Washington High School where he played end on the 1940 and 1941 football teams. He enrolled at Purdue—but was called into military service before completing a semester.

After a stint with the U.S. Coast Guard, he entered Notre Dame in 1946 and played with the freshman football squad. He dropped football to join the Irish training staff as a student assistant, a position he held until his graduation in January, 1950.

Paszkiet went to work as a member of Hugh Devore's athletic staff at New York University—then returned to Notre Dame in July, 1952.

He and the former Patricia Kedzie of South Bend were married in 1955. They have five children: Mary Patricia, 25, John William, 23, Ann, 21, Robert Stephen, 20, and James Robert, 19.

JOHN WHITMER — Head Trainer

John Whitmer moves into his third year as head of training operations for all varsity sports following a decade as Notre Dame's assistant trainer. He holds responsibility for the administration of the total training program for both the men's and women's varsity sports.

Whitmer, who previously worked specifically with the Notre Dame hockey team while aiding Gene Paszkiet with football and other varsity sports, received his undergraduate degree in physical education from Western Michigan. He obtained his master's degree from the same school in 1968.

The 37-year-old Whitmer then spent one year as head football trainer at Washington High School in Massillon, Ohio. He came to Notre Dame as assistant trainer in August, 1969.

Irish Roster Notes

The 103 players listed on the 1981 Notre Dame football roster represent 26 different states.

Ohio boasts nearly three times as many players as any other state, with 29 representatives. Illinois is second with 10 followed by Indiana and Massachusetts with six each, Pennsylvania and Washington with five each and California, Colorado, Michigan, Wisconsin and Texas with four each.

Of the 29 players from Ohio, 15 of them list Cincinnati as their hometown and nine of those 15 played for Gerry Faust at Moeller High School in Cincinnati.

Irish Colors

Although Notre Dame's official colors for athletics long have been listed as gold and blue, the color of the Irish home football jersey has switched back and forth between blue and green for more than 50 years.

The 1981 season will mark yet another change—thanks to Gerry Faust's decision to return to blue this fall. While the gold Irish helmets and pants remain unchanged, Faust's home jerseys will be royal blue with white numbers feathered in gold. There will be three one-inch stripes on the sleeves, two gold surrounding one white.

The change back to blue marks the first switch since Notre Dame made the move to green beginning with the 49-19 victory over Southern Cal on October 22, 1977. The Irish had worn navy blue all during Ara Parseghian's 11 seasons and through the first two-and-a-half years of the Dan Devine era—but they had stayed with the green ever since the victory over the Trojans.

Back in the 1920s during the Knute Rockne days, the Notre Dame varsity generally wore blue while the freshman squad wore green. But, on several occasions the varsity team did wear green—simply for purposes of distinction when the Irish opponent also came out in blue. Games against Navy, for example, in the late 1920s featured green-clad Notre Dame teams, to avoid confusion with the Navy's blue uniforms.

Rockne didn't mind using the color change as a psychological ploy. When Notre Dame faced Navy in Baltimore in 1927, the Irish head coach started his second-string reserves. Navy retaliated by scoring a touchdown in the first five minutes of the game. But, just as the Midshipmen scored, reported George Trevor in the New York Sun, Rockne made his move:

"Instantaneously the Notre Dame regulars yanked off their blue outer sweaters and like a horde of green Gila monsters darted onto the field. From that moment on Notre Dame held the initiative, imposed its collective will upon the Navy."

The Irish came from behind to win that one 19-6—then did the same thing the following year in Chicago's Soldier Field, this time beating Navy 7-0. The 1928 edition of the Scholastic Football Review included this description:

"Mr. K. K. Rockne may, or may not, be a psychologist. But, he did array his Fighting Irish in bright green jerseys for their battle with the United States Naval Academy. Mr. Rockne evidently surmised that garbing a band of native and adopted Irish in their native color is somewhat akin to showing a bull the Russian flag."

The green jerseys remained prominent throughout the Frank Leahy years—particularly so in September of 1947 when Heisman Trophy winner Johnny Lujack graced the cover of Life magazine clad in green. Several of Joe Kuharich's squads wore green with UCLA-style shoulder stripes and shamrocks on the helmets. Even Hugh Devore's 1963 team—after wearing navy blue all season—switched to green in the finale against Syracuse.

Faust's return to blue this year came after the new Irish coach suggested some research into the University archives to determine the history of Notre Dame's gold and blue colors. Those findings indicated the blue color was actually Madonna blue, a light blue shade, as opposed to the navy blue shade that has been most common in recent Notre Dame uniforms.

In its 1889 edition the Scholastic refers to the new uniforms acquired by the football team that spring. They included the letters ND on the breast of the jacket, one in old gold and the other in sky-blue. The caps, with visors, featured the same colors.

Notre Dame-Mutual Radio Network

Tony Roberts

Al Wester

Notre Dame and the Mutual Broadcasting System mark their 14th consecutive season as a national broadcast team in 1981. With approximately 350 stations throughout the country, Notre Dame football covers virtually every corner of the nation. Many Fighting Irish games also can be heard on the Armed Forces Radio Network overseas.

Veteran announcers Tony Roberts and Al Wester will handle the broadcasting chores—with Roberts serving as play-by-play specialist and Wester providing expert analysis.

A native of Chicago, Ill., Roberts has been a familiar name to Mutual listeners while serving as play-by-play announcer for Notre Dame basketball, National Football League Sunday afternoon games and National Basketball Association playoff contests.

Named Washington, D.C., Sportcaster of the Year for eight consecutive years, Roberts boasts a long list of radio credits. He previously has served as the voice of Indiana University football and basketball, Navy football, Washington Senators baseball and Washington Bullets basketball.

Aside from his schedule of play-by-play events, Roberts also broadcasts daily sports shows for Mutual and anchored the network's coverage of the 1980 Olympics from Lake Placid, N.Y.

Wester is in his second season as color analyst following three seasons as the play-by-play voice of the Fighting Irish. He has been a sportscaster with Mutual since 1948 and now is in his second decade of covering Notre Dame football.

A native Texan, Wester now lives in New Orleans and has handled a variety of assignments for Mutual, including a lengthy list of major golf tournaments, horse races, Indianapolis 500 races and numerous college and pro football contests, many of them post-season or bowl games.

Notre Dame-Metro Replay Network

Harry Kalas

George Connor

Metrosports, a division of Metro Communications, Inc., of Rockville, Md., will produce a two-hour delayed telecast package of Notre Dame football games for the second straight season—making Irish games available via either broadcast or cable to nearly every major market in the nation.

Harry Kalas will do the play-by-play and George Connor will provide the color commentary for the Notre Dame games, which will be shown on a delayed basis for the 18th straight season.

A native of Chicago, Kalas is in his 12th season as a member of the Philadelphia Phillies broadcast team. In addition to handling play-by-play for Metrosports' Notre Dame basketball broadcasts, Kalas has been involved in numerous Big 5 basketball telecasts, as well as narrating nationally-syndicated This is the NFL and NFL Game of the Week programs for four years.

Previously a six-year veteran of the Houston Astros broadcasts, Kalas also has done play-by-play for the Southwest Conference basketball game of the week, University of Houston football, University of Hawaii football and basketball and the Hawaiian Islanders of the Pacific Coast League.

Captain of the Irish 1946 and 1947 national championship teams, Connor received All-America honors both seasons as a Notre Dame offensive tackle. The Chicago native earned the first Outland Trophy in 1946—then went on to star with the Chicago Bears for eight seasons. An all-pro choice on six occasions, Connor has been named to both the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame and the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Now head of the Connor Container Corporation in Elmhurst, Ill., Connor spent two seasons as a Bears assistant coach following his retirement as a player. He served many years as a color commentator on the Bears' CBS telecasts.

Irish Rank High In Academic Derby

Over the past 16 years, Notre Dame student-athletes have been the recipients of 35 academic grants for postgraduate study. The grants have been awarded by national organizations, educational foundations and institutions including the NCAA, the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame and the Danforth Foundation, among others.

Each year the NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship Committee awards academic grants to qualified student-athletes. Notre Dame students have received 19 to date. The most recent Notre Dame recipients are Irish football players Tom Gibbons and Bob Burger. Gibbons earned a postgraduate scholarship from the NCAA, while Burger received one of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame's scholarship awards.

The University always has placed a high degree of emphasis on the education of the individual student-athlete, stressing the obvious fact that earning an undergraduate degree is the primary objective of the Notre Dame experience. In fact, all 31 former Notre Dame football players listed on active rosters of National Football League teams during the 1980 season had earned their degrees from the University.

All-Time Notre Dame Team Records

Modern college football records begin with the 1937 season, the advent of NCAA statistics. Notre Dame's modern records (indicated by MR) are also listed in categories where the all-time record was set prior to 1937. The modern records are not necessarily second best to the all-time mark, only the best since 1937.

Notre Dame Grid Highlights

Here is a synopsis of Notre Dame's major achievements on the football field since the Irish began playing on the intercollegiate level in 1887:

*Notre Dame has won more national championships than any other team in the country since the Associated Press first began certifying the winner of the national crown. The Irish have won seven titles (1943-46-47-49-66-73-77) since the first AP rankings in 1936 — with Oklahoma and Alabama second in the list with five championships each.

*Notre Dame ranks as the winningest college football team in history, based on its .774 percentage (616-166-39 record). Next on the list are Yale at .763 (709-202-53), Michigan at .742 (623-207-31), Alabama at .733 (576-197-41) and Texas at .725 (596-217-29).

*Notre Dame has produced the two winningest coaches in college football history — Knute Rockne and Frank Leahy. Rockne's 13 seasons at Notre Dame (1918-30) produced an .881 winning percentage and a 105-12-5 record. Leahy's two seasons at Boston College (1939-40) and 11 years at Notre Dame (1941-43, 1946-53) produced an .864 percentage and 107-13-9 record.

*Notre Dame is the only team in the country to produce at least one consensus All-American each of the last 17 seasons. According to official NCAA designations, Notre Dame has had 67 players voted consensus All-Americans, second only to Yale's 69. However, Yale has not had a consensus choice since 1944, while Notre Dame has had 43 picks during that period.

*Notre Dame has produced more Heisman Trophy winners than any other team in the country with six since the Downtown Athletic Club of New York began awarding the trophy in 1935 to college football's outstanding player. Ohio State is next with five winners.

Notre Dame Stadium

A myriad of college football legends—including six Notre Dame Heisman Trophy winners and dozens more legendary players and coaches on both sides of the field—have appeared in the Notre Dame Stadium that officially celebrated its 50th season of use in 1979.

The Fighting Irish first played their games on Cartier Field, located behind the Athletic and Convocation Center and still utilized as part of Notre Dame's football practice complex. But as the University's national football reputation expanded thanks to the coaching success of Knute Rockne, the need for a new home for the Irish was voiced since no more than 30,000 fans could squeeze into the Cartier facility.

Architectural blueprints and bids were received from prominent contractors throughout the nation once plans became more specific by 1929. The Osborn Engineering Company, which had designed more than 50 stadia in the country—including Comiskey Park in Chicago, Yankee Stadium and the Polo Grounds in New York City, and facilities at Michigan, Indiana, Purdue and Minnesota—was awarded the contract and excavation began that summer.

Actual labor on the foundations of the Stadium did not commence until April, 1930, but four months later Notre Dame Stadium opened its 18 gates and assumed its place as a campus landmark. Five hundred construction workers, who required a ton of food each day to furnish energy for their labors, actually built the Stadium.

The Stadium measures a half-mile in circumference, stands 45 feet high and features a glass-enclosed press box rising 60 feet above ground level and originally accommodating 264 writers plus facilities for photographers and radio and television broadcasters. There are more than 2,000,000 bricks in the edifice which, if laid end to end, would reach from Notre Dame to the Cleveland, Ohio, waterfront 300 miles away.

If the 400 tons of steel used in its construction were converted into bullets, each weighing two ounces, the total production would be almost 6,500,000 bullets. If these were fed steadily into a machine gun shooting 100 per minute, the trigger would remain depressed for 44 days and 10 hours before exhausting the supply.

The 15,000 cubic yards of concrete, if made into a tower 10 feet square, would reach a height of more than four times that of the John Hancock Building in Chicago. The total cost of construction exceeded $750,000, and architecturally the Notre Dame Stadium was patterned, on a smaller scale, after the University of Michigan's mammoth stadium.

Though Rockne had a chance to coach in the new facility only in its initial season of use, he took a personal hand in its design. The sod from Cartier Field was transplanted into the new Stadium, but Rockne insisted on its use for football only. He kept the area between the field and the stands small to keep sideline guests, as he called them, to a minimum—and he personally supervised the parking and traffic system that basically is the same one in use today.

With a crowd on hand far less than the 54,000 capacity—the Irish opened the facility by defeating Southern Methodist 20-14 on October 4, 1930. Official dedication ceremonies came a week later against traditional foe Navy. This time, more than 40,000 fans cheered a 26-2 triumph over the Midshipmen. Frank E. Hering, captain of the 1898 team and the first Notre Dame coach as well as president of the Alumni Association, delivered the major speech during the ceremonies.

It took another year before the Irish played before their first capacity crowd (50,731 for the '31 Southern Cal game), but full houses and Notre Dame victories have been the rule rather than the exception. Since that 1930 opening, the Irish have compiled an impressive 186-48-4 (.790) mark in Notre Dame Stadium, while an average of 49,915 spectators have watched.

During 21 of those seasons the Irish did not lose a home game. Beginning with a 27-20 victory over Northwestern on November 21, 1942, and ending with a 28-14 loss to Purdue on October 7, 1950—Notre Dame won 28 consecutive games in Notre Dame Stadium.

Notre Dame's largest crowd ever to witness a game in the Stadium was 61,296 in a 24-6 loss to Purdue on October 6, 1962. However, attendance figures since 1966 have been based on paid admissions, rather than total in the house, thus accounting for the familiar 59,075 figure every week. Since that 1966 season every Irish home game, with the exception of a Thanksgiving Day matchup with Air Force in 1973, has been a sellout.

Navy again was the opponent in 1979 when Notre Dame celebrated the 50th season of service of Notre Dame Stadium. This time the Irish prevailed 14-0 in a game that featured commemorative edition tickets which were authentic reproductions of those used for the 1930 dedication game.

*Postseason poll voted Michigan nation's top team.

Origin of 'Fighting Irish'

Exactly where and how Notre Dame's athletic nickname, "Fighting Irish," came to origination and acceptance never has been perfectly explained.

One story suggests the moniker was born in 1887, Notre Dame's first season of football. With Notre Dame leading Northwestern 5-0 at halftime of a game in Evanston, Ill., the Wildcat fans began to chant, "Kill the Fighting Irish, kill the Fighting Irish," as the second half opened.

Another tale has the nickname originating at halftime of the Notre Dame-Michigan game in 1909. With his team trailing, Notre Dame quarterback John Murphy yelled to his teammates—who happened to have names like Dolan, Kelly, Glen, Duffy and Ryan—"What's the matter with you guys? You're all Irish and you're not fighting worth a lick." Notre Dame came back to win the game and the press, after overhearing the remark, reported the game as a victory for the "Fighting Irish."

The most generally accepted explanation is that the press coined the nickname as a characterization of Notre Dame athletic teams, their never-say-die fighting spirit and their Irish qualities of grit, determination and tenacity. The term likely began as an abusive expression tauntingly directed toward the athletes from the small, private, Catholic institution.

The Notre Dame Scholastic, in a 1929 edition, printed its own version of the story:

"The term 'Fighting Irish' has been applied to Notre Dame teams for years. It first attached itself years ago when the school, comparatively unknown, sent its athletic teams away to play in another city. . . . At that time the title 'Fighting Irish' held no glory or prestige. . . .

"The years passed swiftly and the little school began to take a place in the sports world. . . . 'Fighting Irish' took on a new meaning. The unknown of a few years past has boldly taken a place among the leaders. The unkind appellation became symbolic of the struggle for supremacy of the field. . . . The term, while given in irony, has become our heritage. . . . So truly does it represent us that we are unwilling to part with it. . . ."

NCAA Chevrolet Scholarship Program

Since the inauguration of the Chevrolet Scholarship Program in 1971, the University of Notre Dame general scholarship fund has received a total of $30,000 in scholarships to be awarded in the name of Irish players who have been chosen player of the game on ABC's NCAA football telecasts. Chevrolet has contributed 25 individual $1,000 scholarships to Notre Dame student-athletes—and the University also received an additional $5,000 in 1975 when Steve Niehaus was chosen Chevrolet's defensive player of the year.

Football Streak Breakers

NOTRE DAME 0 ARMY 0 . . . November 9, 1946. The Irish snapped the Cadets' 25-game victory string with this tie before 74,000 fans at Yankee Stadium in New York. Notre Dame defenders were the heroes this day as they successfully contained Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis. Both teams barely eclipsed the 200-yard mark in total offense. The Irish avenged 59-0 and 48-0 defeats to Army the previous two years.

NOTRE DAME 27 GEORGIA TECH 14 . . . October 24, 1953. Heisman Trophy winner John Lattner got the Irish off to an auspicious beginning by advancing the opening kickoff 80 yards to set up Notre Dame's first score. The victory ended Georgia Tech's 31-game unbeaten streak, then the longest current streak in college football.

NOTRE DAME 7 OKLAHOMA 0 . . . November 16, 1957. Notre Dame halfback Dick Lynch scored the only touchdown of the day as the Irish ended the Sooners' 47-game winning streak, still the longest in college football history. The Irish had been the last team to defeat Oklahoma before that contest, as they had been victorious on September 26, 1953, by a 28-21 count.

NOTRE DAME 24 TEXAS 11 . . . January 1, 1971. Joe Theismann paced the Irish to victory in the Cotton Bowl that ended the Longhorns' 30-game winning streak. Theismann accounted for three scores on the ground and in the air in the first half to give Notre Dame a 24-11 lead at halftime. The Irish defense, led by Walt Patulski and Mike Kadish, shut out the potent Texas offense in the second half and forced five fumbles.

NOTRE DAME 23 USC 14 . . . October 27, 1973. Eric Penick's 85-yard burst early in the third quarter keyed Notre Dame's triumph that ended the Trojans' 23-game unbeaten string. This victory in Notre Dame Stadium was the pivotal triumph in Notre Dame's 1973 National Championship season.

The Four Horsemen

None of the four stood taller than six feet. And none weighed more than 162 pounds. But thanks to the help of a New York Times sportswriter and a student publicity director they became the most-fabled quartet in college football history.

Harry Stuhldreher played quarterback, Elmer Layden lined up at fullback and Don Miller and Jim Crowley handled the halfback positions. While leading Knute Rockne's 1924 Notre Dame team to a perfect 9-0 regular-season ledger and a Rose Bowl victory over Stanford, they first became known as the Four Horsemen.

Grantland Rice, a writer for the New York Times, came up with the most-quoted passage in college football annals in his game story following Notre Dame's 13-7 victory over Army on October 18, 1924:

"Outlined against a blue, gray October sky the Four Horsemen rode again.

"In dramatic lore they are known as famine, pestilence, destruction and death. These are only aliases. Their real names are: Stuhldreher, Miller, Crowley and Layden. They formed the crest of the South Bend cyclone before which another fighting Army team was swept over the precipice at the Polo Grounds this afternoon as 55,000 spectators peered down upon the bewildering panorama spread out upon the green plain below."

George Strickler, then Rockne's student publicity aide and later sports editor of the Chicago Tribune, made sure the name stuck. The next week in practice he posed the four players on the backs of four plow horses from the Notre Dame farm. The wire services picked up the now-famous photo, and the legendary status of the Four Horsemen was insured.

Stuhldreher, a 5-7, 151-pounder from Massillon, Ohio, was a natural leader who not only could throw accurately but also returned punts and proved a solid blocker. Layden, a 6-0, 162-pounder from Davenport, Iowa, had 10-second speed in the 100-yard dash, became the Irish defensive star with his timely interceptions and also excelled as a punter.

Crowley, a 5-11, 162-pounder from Green Bay, Wis., was known as "Sleepy Jim" for his drowsy-eyed appearance, but his shifty ballcarrying allowed him to outmaneuver many a defender. Miller, a 5-11, 160-pounder from Defiance, Ohio, turned out to be the greatest open-field runner ever to play for Rockne, according to his coach.

All four players eventually were elected to the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame—Layden in 1951, Stuhldreher in 1958, Crowley (the only one of the four still alive) in 1966 and Miller in 1970.

George Gipp

He came from Laurium, Mich., with plans to play baseball at Notre Dame. And he died an untimely death at the age of 25 because of an incurable streptococcic throat infection.

But, from the time he first arrived in South Bend in 1916 until his senior season of 1920 when he helped the Irish complete an unbeaten season just a few weeks prior to his death—George Gipp's performances on the football field made him not only the most famous, but also quite probably the most talented all-around player in Notre Dame history.

Knute Rockne enticed Gipp to come out for football after watching him consistently drop-kick the ball more than 50 yards. The future All-American went on to prove to Rockne and the rest of the college football world that he could run, pass and punt just as proficiently.

Still holder of a handful of Notre Dame records in a variety of categories, Gipp led the Irish in rushing and passing each of his last three seasons. His career mark of 2,341 rushing yards lasted more than 50 years until Jerome Heavens broke it in 1978. Walter Camp named him the outstanding college player in America in 1920, and he was voted into the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame in 1951.

Gipp contracted the strep throat while helping the Irish defeat Northwestern late in his senior season. Three weeks later, on December 14, 1920, he was dead.

While on his deathbed, Gipp made this often-repeated plea to his head coach:

"I've got to go, Rock. It's all right. I'm not afraid. Some time, Rock, when the team's up against it, when things are wrong and the breaks are beating the boys—tell them to go in there with all they've got and win just one for the Gipper. I don't know where I'll be then, Rock. But I'll know about it, and I'll be happy."

Rockne waited eight years to utilize Gipp's parting request. On November 10, 1928, after losing two of its first four games, an injury-riddled Notre Dame team traveled to Yankee Stadium to face unbeaten Army. According to Francis Wallace of the New York News, Rockne made this pregame speech to his underdog Irish:

"The day before he died, George Gipp asked me to wait until the situation seemed hopeless—and then ask a Notre Dame team to go out and beat Army for him. This is the day and you are the team."

Notre Dame won the game 12-6 on a pair of second-half touchdowns. Jack Chevigny scored the first on a one-yard run and, after reaching the end zone, said, "That's one for the Gipper." Football experts who witnessed it said the game was the greatest demonstration of inspired football ever played anywhere.

Notre Dame All-Americans

101* Notre Dame players have been honored on All-America first-team selections recognized by the NCAA for its official All-Time Roster. Additionally, 39 other greats, who did not receive first-team recognition, were accorded second-team honors on at least one of the selections.

Following are Notre Dame's first- and second-team awards, indicated by (1) and (2) by those agencies composing the All-Time Roster. (Also listed for information purposes are the teams chosen by The Sporting News from 1965, Football News and Time magazine, which are not part of the official compilation.)

*Actually 98. Hunk Anderson (1921), Roger Kiley (1921, but a first-team member in 1920), Ed DeGree (1922) and Don Miller (1923) were picked by INS, but their selections for those seasons were not available at the time of the formation of the Roster and Anderson, DeGree and Miller have never been included retroactively.
